Andria (Andi) Fletcher, PhD

Andi is a nationally recognized expert, keynote speaker, author, workshop presenter and coach in afterschool program and leadership development. Andi is the lead author of the CCS publication A Guide To Developing Exemplary Practices in Afterschool Programs, which details 14 major practices and includes extensive self-assessment tools. She is also the author of CCS' Expand & Excel CD ROM, a step-by-step guide for managing growth and strengthening quality in afterschool programs. She is the former director of one of the country's most outstanding afterschool programs. Andi initiated California's first afterschool legislation and is the author of numerous highly acclaimed afterschool publications. She is currently at work on CCS' Afterschool Leadership Guide, and is co-developing our Afterschool Nutrition and Physical Activity initiative and learning community. Andi received a doctorate in Political Science from the University of California, Los Angeles.
